Wade's Proposal For Bipartisan Approach To Tax Settlement Rejected By Sen. Dent

Harrisburg, (AP)—A proposal was made in the Senate last night for six Republican and Democratic leaders of the General Assembly to work out a tax program "upon which all can agree."

But Sen. John H. Dent, the Democratic floor leader, immediately rejected the idea, saying he would take part in "no closed chamber agreements."

Cabinet Chief Sees No Chance Of Depression

New York (AP)—Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey said yesterday there will be no depression in America, come a Korean armistice or even full world peace.

"Adjustments, yes, but not depression," he added in his maiden speech as the fiscal weathervane of President Eisenhower's new Republican Cabinet.

The former Midwest iron ore magnate told the annual luncheon of The Associated Press at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel:

"So long as we maintain the soundness of our money; attain that nice balance between achieving security from aggression and maintaining economic strength; eliminate waste and handle our fiscal affairs with wisdom, America can look forward to good jobs at good pay and real advances in our state of living."

"We can have a stronger economy based on sounder fundamental conditions than we have known in many years."

Humphrey advised the 1,000 editors and publishers that "taxes should not be reduced until expenses are under control."

But he quickly added:

"That does not mean that no relief from present taxation—which is far too high—can be anticipated. Just the opposite is true. Taxes must come down. It's simply a matter of timing geared to reduction of expense. Both are too high and both must be reduced."

"In addition there must be a radical revision of our tax system to better provide the incentives for the creation of more jobs for more people and for the making of more better and cheaper goods for all the people."

33-Inch Brown Trout Caught; Weighs 22 Pounds

Lock Haven, (AP)—Roy Berry, of Lock Haven, yesterday displayed a 33-inch brown trout, weighing 22 pounds, and claimed it was a record catch for the state. The State Fish Commission said he might be right.

"If it weighs 22 pounds, that would be the largest brown trout we ever heard of," commented a commission spokesman at Harrisburg.

He said the commission does not keep official records of trout catches.

Berry hooked the trout Saturday in Big Pine Creek, near Galeton, Potter County.

Shakeup In Pentagon Is Hinted

Washington, (AP)—The chairman of the Senate committee investigating ammunition shortages in Korea hinted yesterday that Congress may demand a shakeup in the organization of the Pentagon.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) gave this indication to reporters after her armed services subcommittee called a temporary halt to its ammunition inquiry.

She said, too, that Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be called as a witness later to fill in gaps in the testimony already heard by the senators.

The final witness in the current phase of the inquiry was Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army's chief of staff, who said in answer to questions from Mrs. Smith that the Army never was told not to win the Korean War.

Gen. James Van Fleet had told the subcommittee earlier that there were serious ammunition shortages during the 22 months he commanded the Eighth Army in Korea. He called the engagement "a sidown war."

Mrs. Smith said she hopes the testimony heard by the subcommittee will serve as a guide to changing the military organization and Pentagon management to avoid any future situation such as the ammunition shortage.

Witnesses Before Congress May Be Forced To Testify

Washington (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved yesterday a bill under which witnesses could be required to testify in congressional hearings—or face possible contempt action—despite any self-incrimination claim they might make.

Under terms of the measure, witnesses who were directed to testify despite self-incrimination claims could not be prosecuted on matters dealt with in their testimony, except that they would be liable for perjury or contempt.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.). It is directed at the growing practice of witnesses to refuse to testify on the grounds of self-incrimination. This has come up particularly on questions involving alleged membership in the Communist party.

Smith, Johnson and Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland) discussed the sales tax situation with Gov. Fine. Afterwards the governor told reporters that they "canvassed the whole tax situation."

Fine replied "no comment" when he was asked if he gave the House GOP leaders his views on the sales tax. Early in the session the governor said that neither an income nor a sales tax could pass the 1953 Legislature but has since withheld comment on that phase of the tax situation.

Dulles Declares Armistice Should Precede Discussion On Unification Of Korea

Washington, (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday the administration wants to negotiate with the Communists as soon as possible on the unification of Korea—but not before an armistice is reached.

He ruled out, in effect, a proposal by Sen. Taft of Ohio, majority leader in the Senate, that before agreeing to a cease-fire the administration should make every effort to get a settlement of such Far Eastern problems as the Red warfare in Indochina and Malaya.

American commitments to the United Nations, Dulles told a news conference, require that the armistice talks precede any effort to settle political issues in Asia. Cease-fire negotiations are scheduled to be resumed Friday.

Dulles agreed that the two sets of negotiations should coincide as far as possible, adding that if it became apparent in advance that political agreements are impossible right now this might have a bearing on the conclusion of an armistice.

Asked whether the U. S. intended at the truce negotiations to sound out the Communists as to their views on a political settlement, the secretary replied: "I doubt that that would be an appropriate forum for such a sounding, because that is a military discussion by military leaders, and the armistice is a military document. It could be done through some other means but that doesn't mean to say it will be. I just say it could be."

Dulles, leaving today for the Paris meeting of the North Atlantic Council, which is expected to set revised military goals for Western European defense, said in response to questions:

One—The truce negotiations should be short and to the point and not complicated by protracted political discussions.

Two—The U. N. and the Eisenhower administration are both committed to the aim of unifying Korea.

Three—The idea of a trusteeship for Formosa, which the White House has denied as administration policy, has not been considered since it was discussed in the U. N. in 1950.

Ike And Taft Play 'Ragged' Game Of Golf

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Taft reported he and President Eisenhower shot "rather ragged" golf yesterday and kept no score—and former links star Bobby Jones disclosed Eisenhower carded an 86 for 18 holes against Taft Sunday.

At the start of yesterday's match at the Augusta National course Eisenhower was in high good humor and obviously delighted with his score Sunday. So far as is known, the 86 was his first below-90 tally since his 84 here last November, when he was President-elect.

Taft returned to Washington aboard the presidential plane Columbine.

"I am very much invigorated and ready to return to the filibuster in the Senate," Taft said.

He was referring to the prolonged debate in the Senate over the submerged oil lands bill. He was returning to a night session.

In reply to a question, Taft said he and Eisenhower discussed no business during his two-day stay, except to arrange for GOP congressional leaders to meet with the President at the White House on Thursday morning.

Eisenhower plans to leave for Washington this afternoon.

State Stages Air-Raid Test This Afternoon

Monroe County was set last night for a statewide air raid test today—the second since the end of World War II.

The six-minute test will get under way at 2:35 p. m. with the sounding of the "red alert," a three-minute signal by siren, horn or whistle.

The all-clear at 2:41 p. m. will be a one-minute signal sounded three times at two-minute intervals.

The "raid," the first since last Oct. 15, is aimed at checking the effectiveness of civil defense workers and the cooperation of the public in carrying out self-protection measures.

Motorist and pedestrians must take cover in a building or air raid shelter.

Drivers must leave at least one lane open for emergency traffic when they park their vehicles. If no shelter is available they should crouch on the floor or seat. Truck drivers may stay with their trucks to guard the contents.

"Preliminary reports received at state headquarters indicate that many communities are planning special demonstrations in connection with the test," said Dr. Richard Gerstle, director of the State Civil Defense Council.

"Many ostrich-like citizens, who have kept their heads deep in the sand, are sure to be surprised to see just what some of their more alert friends and neighbors have done to assure survival in this atomic age," he added.

Murder Charge Filed Against Bakery Worker

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—A murder charge was filed yesterday against William Johnson, 32-year-old bakery worker, in the strangling of Mrs. Johanna Kutz, 94, at her home in Tunkhannock last Thursday.

Johnson was arraigned briefly before Justice of the Peace Cecil Krewson, at Tunkhannock, then returned to the Wyoming County jail. The charge is expected to be placed before the June grand jury.

Both defense and prosecution counsel have indicated that a mental examination will be sought for Johnson, a former inmate of the Fairview State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

Mrs. Kutz was strangled with an electric light cord. Her death was discovered after a banker, whom Johnson asked to cash an $800 check signed by Mrs. Kutz, asked relatives of the woman to check whether she had authorized the check. Johnson fled before receiving the money, was arrested some hours later in Wilkes-Barre.

State Democrats Convene Today

Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania's 1954 gubernatorial campaign will be discussed "only in a general way" when Democrats meet here today for their annual Jefferson Day dinner.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, state committee secretary, said it is "too early" to map plans for the campaign for the governorship.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, of Michigan, will be the main speaker at the dinner.

Meetings of the state policy and executive committees will be held in the morning. The full state committee and county chairmen and vice-chairmen meet in the afternoon.

New Jersey Votes Today

Newark, N. J. (AP)—New Jersey's Republicans and Democrats vote today on who they want to represent their parties in the November gubernatorial election.

Guns Silenced

Scout (AP)—The mutter of guns along the Korean front faded to a whisper yesterday as the Allies and Communists began the war's first exchange of disabled prisoners.

The registration order from the Subversive Activities Control Board, which called the party "a subsidiary and puppet of the Soviet Union since its inception in 1919," opened the way for a long, drawn-out court battle.

Party lawyers, who had declared in advance they would fight the ruling, said yesterday they will ask the U. S. Court of Appeals here—and the Supreme Court, if necessary—to reverse the board's decision "as an unconstitutional monstrosity." The lawyers said they would ask the courts to strike down the McCarran Act on which the ruling was based.

Until the courts decide, enforcement of the registration order is stayed. It may be a year or more before the case makes its way through the two courts. The party

Group Tomorrow To Be Composed Of South Koreans

Panmunjom, Tuesday (AP)—Happy and wise-cracking, the second 100 sick and wounded Allied war prisoners crossed their merciful milestone of freedom today in exchange for 500 sullen and dishevelled disabled Communists.

The Allied soldiers were jubilant in sharp contrast to the solemn Allies who came down freedom road in the first exchange yesterday.

Sixteen Americans, 12 Britons and three Turks were among the first of two groups to be taken today to Freedom Village from this Korean neutral zone, where full scale armistice talks resume on Saturday.

In the second group were 19 Americans. The balance were South Koreans.

The Communists informed the United Nations Command they would deliver 100 South Koreans to the Allies tomorrow in the third day of prisoner of war exchange.

The U. N. Command earlier had advised the Reds that 350 North Koreans and 150 Chinese would be delivered to the Communists tomorrow.

The U. N. said the Chinese would include 50 litter cases.

At the agreed-upon exchange rate of 100 Allied prisoners daily for 500 Reds, this meant that no American or other non-Korean prisoners would come down Freedom Road tomorrow.

Fifty-five American POWs of the 120 total to be returned still are in Red territory.

The Americans and British waved, smiled and joked today as they entered United Nations reception tents for preliminary medical check-ups. It was a high-spirited entry compared with the silent solemnity of those who returned to freedom yesterday.

One of the returned prisoners stepped out of the reception tent, looked up and saw the big red and gold sign arching above him which said:

"Welcome—Gate to Freedom."

He grinned broadly and said something to one of the soldiers assisting the prisoners. The soldier slapped him on the back and said:

"It's good to have you back."

Not to be outdone, the Communists today belatedly erected their own sign five feet higher than the Allied sign. Painted red, it bore Chinese and Korean characters saying:

"Long live the Chinese People's Republic. Long live the People's Republic of Korea. Return to the arms of your fatherland."

To the south, at Freedom Village, Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. Eighth Army commander, personally greeted today's Allied prisoners.

The exchange will be continued daily until completed.

The Allied prisoners arriving today were excited.

They called out and joked with newsmen and correspondents who occupied a wooden stand nearby.

Pfc. Paul O. Blanton of Brodhead, Ky., member of the 25th Division when he was captured, was the first American to leave the ambulances today. He was followed by Pvt. John M. Janovits Jr., of Philadelphia.

One American soldier called out from inside an ambulance: "Hubba hubba!"

Only other Pennsylvania repatriated was Pfc. Wilber M. Waring, Philadelphia. He was attached to the 32nd Regiment, Seventh Division, Javovits.

Communist Party Ordered To List Members In U. S.

Washington, (AP)—The U. S. Communist party was ordered yesterday to register as a tool of Moscow, list its members and give a financial accounting. But the party doesn't have to do anything about it just yet.

The registration order from the Subversive Activities Control Board, which called the party "a subsidiary and puppet of the Soviet Union since its inception in 1919," opened the way for a long, drawn-out court battle.

Party lawyers, who had declared in advance they would fight the ruling, said yesterday they will ask the U. S. Court of Appeals here—and the Supreme Court, if necessary—to reverse the board's decision "as an unconstitutional monstrosity." The lawyers said they would ask the courts to strike down the McCarran Act on which the ruling was based.

Until the courts decide, enforcement of the registration order is stayed. It may be a year or more before the case makes its way through the two courts. The party has 60 days in which to file an appeal.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the Justice Department may seek later this week to force a half dozen alleged Communist-front organizations to register. The department would not comment on this.

However, Atty. Gen. Brownell issued a statement saying the board order against the U. S. Communists "supports our charge that the Communist party is Soviet directed and controlled." The order, he said, "will be of great assistance to the department in its drive to halt and defeat the conspiracy to overthrow our government by force and violence."

Plane Leaves Korea With Prisoners

Seoul (AP)—The first plane bearing returning Allied prisoners released in Korea yesterday left today for Tokyo on the first leg of the long trip home.

The Army did not say how many men were aboard the plane which was seen off the field by U. S. Eighth Army Commander Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Far East Air Force Commander Gen. O. O. Weyland, and U. S. Fifth Air Force Commander Gen. Glenn O. Barcus.

The plane was due at Taehikawa Airbase, about 20 miles outside of Tokyo about 12:30 p. m.

Mount Pocono Reports Low Of 24 Degrees

Temperatures throughout the upper reaches of the Poconos plunged to a chilly 24 degrees early yesterday.

To make matters worse weather-wise, snow fell to a depth of about an inch in the mountains. Most of it disappeared under the sun's rays by 10 a. m., however. In the meantime, motorists were forced to drive cautiously as highways became slippery.

Heavy "snow showers" fell during the day in all sections of the county, but there was little trace of the white flakes by nightfall.

At the Mount Pocono Airport, where the 24-degree reading was taken yesterday morning, the temperature was down to 30 degrees at 10:30 last night.

April Snowfall No Record For Washington, D.C.

Washington, (AP)—There was snow in the national capital yesterday and everybody but the weatherman thought it was most unusual for the date.

But the Weather Bureau said as recently as 1923 there was 5 inches of snow here in April, and traces in 1942.

There were even traces in May in 1905, 1923 and 1925, the bureau said.

Yesterday's snow lasted only minutes and didn't stick.

Socialists Gain In Jap Election

Tokyo (AP)—Japan's politicians worked today to stitch together some sort of patchwork government in the wake of Sunday's national "election that nobody won."

Left-wing and right-wing Socialists made the biggest gains while the leading Conservative parties lost a total of 22 seats in the Diet (parliament).

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party leaders tried to line up support from other conservative groups to back him in a fifth post-war Cabinet.

Paint Service Center Says Only Best Quality Paints Can Provide Proper Result

If a painted surface shows signs of "alligatoring" or checking, it is probably due to one of two causes, John Muller of the Paint Service Center, 517 Main St., points out.

Either the undercoat was covered before it was quite dry, or it was mixed with too much oil or an inferior grade of oil.

To prevent such an occurrence use only the best quality paint and allow each coat time to dry completely before the next is applied.

The next time you paint choose Sherwin-Williams... a name in the paint world that means dependability and nationally recognized quality.

C. Of C. Supports Coolbaugh Supervisors In Housing Fight

Group Urges Taxable Land Be Utilized

Battling to get some tax equity out of housing resulting from the Signal Depot at Tobyhanna, supervisors of Coolbaugh Township won unanimous support of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday to have Wherry Housing built on taxable land.

A formal resolution was adopted by the Chamber directors at their luncheon meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel calling for use of taxable land as the site for the 200 unit Wherry Housing development.

They sent their appeal immediately to Sen. Edward Martin and high officials of the Home and Housing Finance Administration.

Through Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe supervisors recently contacted Sen. Edward Martin with a proposal that the plan to have the $1,690,000 Wherry Housing on government land next to the depot be abandoned.

Township officials said they have private contractors who are willing to build the project on taxable land for the same rent schedule. They also advised they have plans to finance the project, including utilities, streets, etc.

Supervisors said their contractor will use the exact type of construction—similar to apartment house style—or build separate home units.

During the week-end a petition was circulated in Tobyhanna and an announcement was made that the Tobyhanna Civic League, PTA and the Lions Club want the Wherry Housing built on government land.

This petition was rushed to Sen. Martin and other Washington officials.

Supervisors advised Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday when they were queried by directors that placement of the project on government land frees it from real estate taxes—badly needed by the township because over half their land is now either state or federal owned.

They said a per capita tax from the residents and a possible "token" payment from the government for school purposes only would be all the tax equity they could appreciate from housing on federal lands.

Text of the resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce directors follows:

"Whereas The Tobyhanna (Pa.) Signal Depot has generated a need for additional housing units for operating personnel of the depot and the Board of Supervisors of Coolbaugh Township has developed a plan to erect such houses on private property with suitable financing and has a contractor ready to proceed on this basis;

"Now be it resolved that it is the sense of this Chamber of Commerce that this plan should be adopted and that no counter pro-

Firemen Present Watches To Melick, Miller; Department Described As 'Best In State'

Members of Stroudsburg Fire Department last night paid tribute to Robert Melick and Fred Miller, chief and assistant chief of the department for six years.

Each was presented with a Hamilton wrist watch, engraved with their capacity of service and years of duty with the department.

During the ceremonies, officials of the company and borough officials said Stroudsburg has a fire department personnel, equipment and relationship with borough council "second to none in Pennsylvania."

Millard Marsh, who took over duties as chief for a three-year term on April 2 along with Webb Heller, assistant chief, acted as toastmaster.

"Fighting fires has now become a science," Chief Marsh said. He recalled "in the old days" it was a matter of getting there, putting on all the water you could, then returning.

"There are so many different types of fires and types of equipment to erect such housing units on government property with attendant loss of tax revenue to Coolbaugh Township should be entertained."

"Done at Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, this 20th day of April 1953 by Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce in stated session of its board of directors, said session having been declared open to all members with due notice thereof. Attest: Jacob C. Wachtman, Executive Secretary."

ment that today's firemen must be alert to all sorts of conditions," he said.

"Here we have a fire school dealing with these conditions and a very well equipped library. There's always something to be learned in this business."

"By your attendance at drills and use of the library your improved knowledge will enable you to render better service to Stroudsburg and to defend yourself against many emergencies."

Chief Marsh urged firemen to make use of both these educational programs.

He said the cooperation with borough council during his years of experience has been excellent. He noted that while at a fire school in Lewistown, a community larger than both boroughs, he found their equipment and set-up cannot match the Stroudsburgs—"yet they think they're tops in the state."

Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris congratulated firemen on their brilliant record of service to the community.

"You are the best group of volunteer firemen in the country and the community, myself and borough council is proud of you," Harris said.

He noted that cooperation between firemen and council has always been excellent and recalled some of the improvements council has instituted to aid firemen in the fire fighting work.

Richard Emanuel, president of Phoenix Company, presented Mr. Melick with a watch on behalf of the entire department. He said the gift marks the appreciation of the department "for six years of excellent service."

Elmer Walton, president of Chemical Company, made a similar presentation to Fred Miller, assistant chief.

Both former officials thanked firemen, council, chief Burgess for cooperation extended during their service and called on firemen to give the new chief and assistant chief the same type of consideration.

Assistant Chief Webb Heller spoke briefly and pledged every effort to render efficient service to the department.

Others introduced by Mr. Marsh were Councilman Daniel Warner, chairman fire committee; Councilman H. G. Heller, member fire committee; Councilman Ed Doran, Borough Secretary Harold Snyder and Ben Coolbaugh.

Rev. Sherman, Tobyhanna Priest, Dies

Rev. William P. Sherman, 71, of Tobyhanna, a priest in the Scranton Roman Catholic Diocese since 1909, died yesterday at 11 a.m. at Veterans Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. Sherman had been in semi-retirement at his Tobyhanna home since 1931 because of poor health brought on by World War One military service. He had been severely gassed while serving as an Army chaplain in France.

He entered the Veterans Hospital a month ago. Last assignment was in 1928 when he served at St. Francis Church in Springfield, Pa. He relinquished his pastoral duties three years later.

He was the son of the late Charles and Margaret Costello Sherman, a member of St. Ann's Church, Tobyhanna, and a graduate of Tobyhanna High School. He attended St. Bonaventure College at Olean, N. Y., and Christ the King Seminary there.

He was ordained in St. Peter's Cathedral, Scranton, Sept. 23, 1909, by the late Bishop M. J. Hoban, former bishop of the Scranton diocese.

He did a year of post graduate work at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., before assuming his first assignment as assistant pastor at St. Luke's Church, Jersey Shore, Pa. He was later an assistant pastor at the following churches: St. Joseph's at St. Joseph, Pa.; St. Ann's at Freeland, Pa.; St. Joseph's at Athens; and St. Patrick at West Scranton.

Father Sherman was assistant at Holy Rosary Church, Scranton, after his return from military service. In 1921, he was assistant pastor at St. Rose of Lima, Carbon-dale. He was appointed pastor of St. Ann's Church, Bentley Creek, N. Y., next year. In 1926, he became pastor of St. Bonaventure Church in Auburn; in 1928 he took his last assignment.

Among his survivors are a nephew, Daniel Whelan, Stroudsburg.

A solemn pontifical mass of requiem will be celebrated by Bishop William J. Hafey, bishop of Scranton, at St. Ann's Church, Tobyhanna, at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Divine office will be given at 10 a.m.

Viewing will be from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday in St. Ann's Rectory, Tobyhanna.

Great Oaks . . .

A billion and a half zippers are produced every year. And—some statisticians have figured out—they've become so much a part of everyday life that the average woman zips a zipper 41 times a day, and the average man zips 16 times.

That seems to make worthwhile the struggles of Col. Lewis Walker, who finally got two rows of hooks fastened together with a crude slide, and founded the great Talon organization at Meadville. The zipper industry didn't just zip into being.

The Child Care Proposals

Two of the three child care bills developed by the Governor's Committee on Children and Youth were introduced in the General Assembly last week under bi-partisan sponsorship. The third bill in the "package" is ready for introduction this week.

House Bill 1132 amends the County Institution District Act of 1937 and is sponsored by Rep. Bolton (R., Montgomery), Rep. Price (R., Mifflin), Rep. Schilde, (D., Allegany), Rep. Seyler, (D., York). Its major provisions are:

Authorizes County Commissioners to provide placement for adoption, counselling of unmarried mothers, services to neglected children in their own homes and the giving of information on available treatment facilities to parents of handicapped children, as well as placement of children in foster homes and institutions at public expense.

Provides that Commissioners may render these services through their own staffs or arrange to obtain them from private agencies.

Requires that anyone acting under the provisions of the act is prohibited from taking custody of a child over the objection of his parents without court order.

Senate Bill 180 amends the Adoption Law, and is sponsored by Sen. Kessler, (R., Lancaster), Sen. Bane, (D., Fayette). Its major provisions are:

Provides that with the consent of the Orphans' Court, parents may relinquish their right to consent to a specific adoption and that this right may be transferred to the agency making the adoption placement, if the agency has been certified by the State Department of Welfare in regard to the standards it observes.

Contains a definition of abandonment and permits an Orphans' Court to find abandonment before an adoption placement is made.

Requires that persons with whom children are placed for adoption report to the Orphans' Court on how and from whom they obtained the child.

Makes mandatory an investigation of the suitability of the placement by the court soon after the report is filed.

Requires that the "intermediary" in the placement be named in the petition and be present at the hearing on the petition.

The third "package" bill, known as the "Child Care Act," establishes county boards of child welfare and appropriates funds for state aid to counties to fulfill purposes of the Act.

These measures appear to be result of careful planning. Since they would affect the lives of many children, however, it would appear wise that individuals and groups here and elsewhere in the state should re-study the bills in the light of local conditions.

They should then advise Governor Fine and the sponsors of the bills of their reactions to the child care proposals.

Golf Inquiry

Q—Now then, Mister President, we are conducting this investigation to find out why golf has such a grip on you.

A—If you find out I hope you will let me know. It puzzles me, too. Q—When did you first notice the strange attraction the game had for you?

A—All I know is that it had been latent in me a long time. Q—Why didn't you play it earlier?

A—I couldn't even get a smooth backswing until I got out of my tight army uniform.

Q—What is the importance of breaking ninety? Why is a single stroke so vital?

A—it is the difference between mediocrity and genius, triumph and despair, victory or defeat, happiness or sorrow. A golfer who comes in with a ninety is just another golfer. Let him come in with an eighty-nine and he becomes a man of distinction and a candidate for the club presidency.

Q—Do you have trouble breaking ninety?

A—Breaking the enemy front in Europe seemed less complicated. Q—Mister President, how often have you done eighteen holes in eighty-nine or better?

A—You'd be surprised by the record . . . AND SO WOULD I. Q—Do you often shoot over one hundred?

A—I refuse to answer that question on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me, although I still think the greenskeepers and golf course architects should bear some of the responsibility.

Q—You take refuge behind the Fifth Amendment?

A—Gentlemen, when a golfer shoots over one hundred he takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment, the Bill of Rights, the Geneva Convention, the Potsdam Agreement, the Monroe Doctrine, the Mayflower Covenant and the Charter of the United Nations.

Q—To go back into your record and trace this entry of golf into your life, did you play golf when you were stationed in the Philippines?

A—No, I was very unhappy there for OTHER reasons.

Q—Did you play any golf in Europe?

A—I got over a big waterhole there, but not with golf clubs.

Q—Do you think a man can be both a good golfer and a good President in the present state of the world?

A—A lot depends on the present state of the golf courses.

Q—Don't you think that perhaps golf interferes with a proper consideration of the Russian situation?

A—No. If I could handle my brassie as well as I can handle Malenkov I would be very happy indeed.

Q—The Democrats are criticizing you, citing the fact that Harry Truman never put in an hour on the links. Have you any comment?

A—Truman spent much more time in the rough than I do and did it WITHOUT A GOLF CLUB.

Q—One more question, Mister President: Would you rather be right than be President?

A—Yes, But I have moments when I would rather be down in one putt than be either.

Maybe he thinks it is none of America's business to know when it is "getting the business". . . .

Robert S. Allen Reports

Polish Pilot Says Soviets Shot Down In Korean War

Washington — Franciszek Jarecki, Polish Air Force pilot who flew a latest model MIG-15 jet to Denmark, is coming to the United States.

The intrepid young Iron Curtain escapee is still undecided where he will settle. He was offered permanent asylum in several countries, and is being brought here by the U. S. Air Force to help him make up his mind.

Meanwhile, Jarecki has imparted much sensational information concerning Soviet air and other military matters to Allied officials.

Following are highlights that can be revealed at this time.

1. Russian pilots are fighting in Korea and have been shot down by UN pilots.

2. The Russian MIG, including the latest improved model, is not the equal of the U. S. F-86 Sabrejet.

3. The Polish Air Force is under Soviet control, and the same is apparently true of the other satellite airforces.

Russian pilots were the authority for Jarecki's invaluable disclosures regarding what is happening in the air war in Korea.

The Polish fighter pilot received training from Russians who flew combat missions in Korea.

These veterans of up-to-the-minute jet warfare are being used by the Russians to train their own satellite fighter pilots.

Jarecki's experience is the first definite information concerning the presence of Russian pilots in Korea. There had been previous reports of that, but they had never before been positively confirmed.

Even more important is what has been learned from the latest model MIG-15BIS that Jarecki brought out from behind the Iron Curtain.

From it the following facts have been conclusively established:

1. The vaunted Red plane is inferior to the American Sabrejet. Reports to the contrary are unfounded. The F-86 is faster, better protected and more powerfully armed than the best MIG the Reds are flying in Korea.

2. UN pilots are inflicting heavy losses on the enemy because of superior planes and not inferior pilots. Red pilots in Korea consist of Russians, Poles, Czechs and other competent and well-trained military personnel. They are being knocked out of the air because their MIGs have certain fatal operational defects which for obvious security reasons cannot be made public.

The MIG-15BIS, that Jarecki

Word of what Dodge is planning has leaked from the Appropriations Committee and opposition leaders have held at least one council of war. House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas, was scathing in his denunciation.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

U.S. Tax Fight Complicated By Cuts Just Made By Great Britain And Canada

The Chicken or The Egg—An old conundrum which no one has yet answered, not even the scientists or the theologians who have an answer for everything, is which came first, the chicken or the egg?

I am minded of this in the discussion concerning budget cuts.

The Republicans are in the awkward position that having promised a tax cut in the course of the campaign, they are unwilling to be pushed into what they regard as precipitous action.

The President and his Secretary of the Treasury prefer to balance the budget before they announce a tax cut. On the other hand, members of Congress who will be up for re-election in 1954 realize they must have a cut if they are to win.

Some strategists hold that the tax cut can be delayed until next January, with perhaps a retroactive period so that the cut will be felt by March 15, 1954 and will help to win in November, 1954.

Other equally competent strategists hold that such action will be too late and too small in amount to make much difference. They want a tax cut announced during the present session of the 83rd Congress.

This situation is complicated by the actual tax cuts in Canada and Great Britain during the year 1953. The British cut is particularly embarrassing because that country is able to do it while it is receiving substantial American aid—an aid which is one reason why it is so difficult to reduce American taxes.

In a word, we subsidize a British tax cut by avoiding an American tax cut.

This is actually what the British did:

1. Income taxes have been reduced between 5 and 17 per cent, with the greatest relief to smaller incomes.

2. The purchase tax (sales tax to us) has been cut by a minimum of 25 per cent.

3. The 30 per cent excess profits tax will end next January.

4. Incentives in tax reductions will be arranged to stimulate production.

The Canadians have announced an 11 per cent cut. Both countries stipulate that the cuts are incentives to production. If they need incentives, why do we not need incentives?

It is a very curious situation because what it amounts to is that the Canadians and the British are acting with fiscal wisdom in a post-war situation, while the United States maintains a wartime economy. Yet, American aid continues to go to Great Britain. Furthermore, the American Congress is being asked to reduce its tariffs even to the point of free trade in order to stimulate European production while this country maintains an excess profits tax which keeps American prices high.

This particular issue is the most important before Congress and is being fought over among Republicans with greater vigor than appears in the press. Those Senators who do not come up for election in 1954 are willing to go along with the President's slow-motion program which they feel will come out all right in the end. Those Senators who face an election in 1954, and all Representatives, cannot wait that long. When they go home in August, they want to be able to say that the U. S. Congress will do as well as the British Parliament. Few of them will be able to use the alibi that it will cheer the American heart to get a tax cut in time for the November, 1954 election.

The Democrats never promised a tax cut and therefore can evade the issue. The danger for the Republicans is that the Democrats might take advantage of the situation to advocate a tax reduction.

No one questions the intent or purpose of President Eisenhower or of Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. It is a political matter of timing that is at issue. Unless there is a world war a tax cut is bound to come, but will it affect earnings in 1953, in 1954 or in 1955? Politically, the sooner the better.

When the Revolutionary war ended, the United States was composed of a land and water area totaling 892,135 square miles.

The Taj Mahal is in Agra, India. It was built in the 17th Century by Emperor Shah Jehan for his favorite wife.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

What is it that makes people almost divine in some respects and devilish in others?

One of my favorite television programs is "Strike It Rich." Unfortunately, come on this program and get a chance to win up to $500 in prizes.

Immediately after they tell their story, the phone begins to ring. Manufacturers, storekeepers and private individuals call to offer all sorts of things to the participants. Clothes, wheel chairs, baby carriages, refrigerators and numerous other appliances, and articles of all sorts are freely donated.

Whenever I look at the program, I sort of get a new lease on life. It makes one feel as if there still is an awful lot of good in the human race, after all.

But then comes a story like the one from Largo, Fla.—a story which is so horrible that it makes you forget all about the inherent goodness of man. It makes you wonder whether the human being is really the child of God or whether the devil may not have had a whole lot to do with its creation.

The Largo story, you may recall, was about a fire which destroyed a wooden building used as a nursing home.

Fifty-seven patients were housed in this building, their ages ranging all the way from 55 to 91. Many of them were so senile that, childlike, they refused to like to find some window pane glass which isn't allergic to corner lot baseball.

Vienna, Austria, we read, has a school teaching how to win at roulette. Instructions are all written down, no doubt, in black and red.

The Department of Agriculture, we understand, has okayed a number of vegetables in powdered form. Don't think they'll be popular—a good sneeze and—poof!—there goes dinner out the window.

This Is The New Medium-Priced Car

For Folks Who Want a Lot of Car for Their Money

The New Packard CLIPPER

If you've reached the point where you want more car... a larger car, a smarter car, a finer car... here it is!

MAYBE you're saying, "Wait a minute! I've got to keep it around twenty-five hundred dollars. Why won't a dressed-up, low-priced car give me about what I want?"

We're glad you said "about what you want" because you'd soon discover that a low-priced car dressed up like a "big car" is still a lighter, smaller car by a good deal than a Packard CLIPPER.

And besides, a Clipper gives you the choice of adding power steering, power braking or power shifting... all three, if you want them. These are real big-car features—really needed features for today's tough, teeming traffic.

You ask, "Is this Clipper really big?" Well, check the dimensions: 122-inch wheelbase, 213-inch over-all length. Big as it is, it's still perfectly parkable in tight places. And on the highway it's a big-car riding dream!

You ask, "Has it got a good engine?" Yes, sir! —the most famous engine in automotive history—a Packard engine.

Has it got big-car feel on the road? Why not try a ride for yourself—with you at the wheel, and over a road of your own choosing.

In all, you'll get about 70 big-car features in the new Clipper, adding dollars to the trade you'll make someday.

So, if you've reached the point where you want more car... be sure to see and drive the new Packard CLIPPER and compare it with other medium-priced cars. Surprisingly enough, the CLIPPER costs only a few hundred dollars more than cars in the lowest-priced field. The Packard dealer nearest you is listed below—see him soon!

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Dr. Edna Rosenkrans, pert as a cardinal, was welcomed back by the DAR with delight yesterday afternoon, and her talk was filled with the grace notes that made her lectures at the college one of the things the graduates remember most clearly.

"Thomas Jefferson had two wives — in tandem, of course — is an example of the way she surprises you. And little side remarks about the place of the horse fly in speeding the signing of the Declaration of Independence; or—well, she slips them in so smoothly that they're like flashes from a diamond and as hard to capture.

But if she provided the high comedy, the low comedy element had mild hysterics about the misfortunes that befell a perfectly innocent Miss Lulu Shaffer. Regular custard pie routine ending up with salt — or maybe it was sugar, on her for scurf.

It was a very pleasant luncheon, and nobody minded missing the snowstorm which reportedly passed this way in the afternoon. And at night, humored by the music of the youngsters at the PTA meeting, the chill wind wasn't too unbearable.

But April in the guise of March is not appealing as a constant companion, and I'd suggest she mend her ways.

David Miller Again Heads Local PTA

David Miller and his staff of officers were last night re-elected for another year by the East Stroudsburg Parent-Teachers Association at their meeting at the Junior High School. In addition to Mr. Miller as president, officers are Mrs. David Bernbaum, vice president; Mrs. Harry Heller, secretary; Mrs. Howard Kintner, treasurer. Mrs. Allen Sternor was chairman of the nominating committee.

A report on returns on the hot-lunch questionnaire distributed to all the children was given by Mrs. Herbert Young and provoked much discussion.

Of the 735 questionnaires returned, 424 reported that the children would like to take part in the hot-lunch program. Action on the report was tabled until the next meeting.

All officers of the PTA are to be sent as delegates to the district conference to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on May 2, it was decided. Announcement was made of the PTA leadership training course to be held the week of July 6 at the local college.

Mrs. Pearl Werkheiser, Mrs. Earle Slutter and Mrs. Elmer Taylor were named as nominating committee.

Miss Harriet Sebring, teacher in the Day Care Training Center, was the speaker at the meeting, outlining the program of the Day Care Training Center, now one year old. On Nov. 10, it was taken over by the state, and now has eight children in care. Many other applications have been received but more children cannot be taken until the school has an aide.

The purpose of the school is to improve the speech, posture and motor control of its students; and to rehabilitate them so they can share in community life. Emphasis is on regular routine, praise and patience, she said. Refreshments were served by mothers of the first three grades.

Music Pupils Take Part In Program

Eighty of the young musicians of the Stroudsburg schools last night illustrated the place of "Music in the Schools" which was the theme of the Stroudsburg Parent-Teachers Association meeting in the school auditorium.

In a program arranged by Nana Snyder, the music faculty spoke of their respective departments. Miss Alice Bellairs in speaking of the elementary school music emphasized that at that level, the objective was not to train musicians but to help children to appreciate and get some fun out of music.

John Pyle, director of the hands, stressed the added pleasure of participating in a group to make music, and of the co-operation and team work which were corollaries of the music itself.

Nana Snyder, director of the chorus work, told how they were chosen for advanced musical work.

The talks were illustrated by the songs by the elementary chorus from the fifth and sixth grades of the Ramsey and Morey Schools; and the selections by the Junior band with Carol Willhoite as clarinet soloist.

Mrs. Elton Dening presided at the brief business meeting. Refreshments were served to the 110 adults present by the hostesses: Mrs. Floyd Shafter, Mrs. DeLoeff Hansen, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. John Rumsey, Mrs. Parke Kunkle and Mrs. Jack Kerlin.

The young musicians were also given treats by the PTA.

Mizpah Class Entertained At Meyer Home

The Mizpah Bible Class of the Baptist Sunday School met last week at the home of Mrs. Philip Meyer, 701 Thomas Street. Mrs. Harry Hinton was in charge of the devotions which included prayer by the teacher Miss Jean Lowry.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Meyer, assisted by Mrs. Pat Communal and Miss Margaret Oldorff.

Other members present included Mrs. Elsie Counterman, Mrs. Floyd Clifton, Mrs. Annetta LeBar, Mrs. Frank Majestic, Mrs. Harry Hinton, Mrs. Mary Kunkle, Mrs. Allen Paul, Mrs. Ada Poortstra, Mrs. May White, Rev. and Mrs. Norman Savage, Miss Catherine Counterman, Mrs. Enos Siproth, and three guests, Mrs. Dora Reeves, Mrs. Grey and Mrs. S. Dr. Rosenkrans Tells DAR Penmen Of Revolution Theme At DAR Birthday Luncheon

The debt Americans owe to "Penmen of the Revolution" was brought out in the scholarly talk given yesterday at the birthday luncheon of Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the Indian Queen Hotel by Dr. Edna B. Rosenkrans, former regent of the local chapter and of the faculty of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

"American letters in Revolutionary times," she said "were distinguished not in poetry or fiction, but in the political prose. Although these works were written for special occasions, the quality of their statesmanship have given them an enduring worth."

"It is surprising to find that they were written by young men," she said, "many of them in their 30s."

Among the men whose lives she outlined and from whom she quoted highlights were Thomas Payne, English born son of a stay-maker whose formal schooling ended at 13, but whose writings furnished the inspiration for the Declaration of Independence; John Dickinson, whose "Letters from a Farmer" pleaded for peace but outlined the arguments for rebellion so thoroughly that they had quite the opposite effect.

Thomas Jefferson, George Washington and Alexander Hamilton were among the other writers from whom she quoted. She closed with Patrick Henry's speech, delivered without notes and preserved only by the men who heard it.

Dr. Rosenkrans applied many of the quotations to present day situations, and discussed the background beliefs of their authors. She was introduced by Mrs. G. Raymond Hood, regent.

Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff, organizing regent, told of the first meeting of the chapter, held in her home on April 20, 1920, and of the amusing incidents leading up to that meeting. Mrs. Floyd Bachman, another charter member, spoke briefly.

During the brief business meeting.

Supper at Parish House

Bartonsville—The Crusader's class of St. John's Lutheran church, Bartonsville, will hold a pork and sauerkraut supper in the parish house on April 25, from 5 to 8 p.m. The proceeds will be used for the painting fund for church and parish house. The public is invited.

REV. R. G. FLEXON

Rev. R. G. Flexon and Rev. R. F. Strickland will be at the Pilgrim Holiness Church at Pocono Lake April 21st and 22nd, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Rev. Flexon has only a few weeks ago completed his semi-annual tour of foreign missionary fields. He presents foreign missionary work with the zeal of a camp meeting evangelist. Human emotions are too weak to express the challenge of conditions found in the Orient today.

Rev. Strickland for many years has labored in Africa, and now knows that continent better than the United States. He is a grand man who has lived most of his life for the uplift of unfortunate people.

The Church is honored to have these splendid ministers. —Adv.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

There's something about this season that's sniffling wonderful... particularly down around our cosmetic counter. It's spring. The cases have been freshly painted in bright, sunny colors; there's the precious glitter of jewel-toned lacite, and gold compacts studded with rhinestone or pearl. As though all this were not enough, it's Apple Blossom Time.

It seems to me that the apple's been playing a mighty important part in history ever since Eve. The Greeks, as I recall, had a myth about the Golden Apple, awarded for beauty. The song writers weave pretty sentiments about "Apple Blossom Time in Normandy" and several other places. And there's no doubt about it, when a woman bathes in the scent of these blossoms... powders with it, sprays it from head to toe, touches it to her wrists and temples, she erases years from her age. Or, at least, from her attitude about her age. She feels younger than springtime... as fresh as a flower garden... as elegant as a duchess.

Helena Rubinstein, whom the magazines describe as an all-wise "High Priestess of Beauty," realizes this. So this spring there comes to us a whole new line of Apple Blossom toiletries, looking and smelling as special as a woman's dream of herself. There's a Perfume Cologne at $2.65... a creme cologne... and a stick of solid scent that swivels in the manner of a lipstick for easy, convenient application. For the tub, at $2.50, there's a handsome large jar of beautifully colored, delightfully scented powder that will add elegance, as well as foam, to one's bath water. Even the packages containing these lush glamour items are magnificent. The cologne is bottled in crystal, and the stopper has a circle of mock rubies set in gold. Jewels also decorate the stopper of the purse size flacon which sells for $2. (Tax is extra, of course.)

Madame Rubinstein also gives us a beautiful new "Moonlight Mist" line for spring. Under her Gourielle signature, one can have this subtle fragrance in bath soap... (three giant cakes for $2.50)... in perfume at $2.50 and $3.50, and in a purse size flacon at $3. The blue and white packaging is as lovely as moonlight... and so are the tiny gleams of light flashing from a double row of blue sapphires on the purse perfume. Perfume they say speaks the language of romance. Well—now is the time for love... Moonlight Mist for the miss in the moonlight; Apple Blossom Time for the young woman on the threshold of life—OR the woman who remembers.

Yesterday when I read over the air that eighty-one-inch orlon lace curtains, regularly $9.75, would be sold today for $1.78, I was sure there must be a mistake. But I'm told that it's true... unquestionably, irrevocably true. This is one of our unbelievable "Thank You Specials" for our customers — a 78th anniversary gift from Wyckoff's to them. Between the curtains and the offer of two pounds of coffee for 78¢ (it's regularly $3.00 a pound) I fully expect to see lines a block long waiting at the entrance this morning.

EAST STROUDSBURG SCHOOL DISTRICT'S NEW INDUSTRIAL ARTS BUILDING—The picture above, which shows the approach to the new $60,000 industrial arts building, represents the beginning and the end. It represents the end of a long planning and building project that resulted in the modern, spacious structure above . . . but, above all, it represents the beginning of a new concept of education in East Stroudsburg. Now the needs of mechanically and industrially-minded students can be fully met. Now a student's education includes more than classroom theory. In this new building's workrooms a student can learn the fundamentals of drafting and blueprint reading, carpentry and woodwork, the metal crafts and the printing trade. Members of the East Stroudsburg school system are proud of this new building and what it represents . . . you, the public, will be proud, too, when you see its modern facilities and the boundless opportunity it offers to the youth of East Stroudsburg.

OPEN HOUSE

Today and Tomorrow

Open For Inspection Today 7 to 9 P. M. - Tomorrow 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 P. M.

To the Citizens of East Stroudsburg and Vicinity . . .

The Industrial Arts Curriculum is another step forward in the over all plan to build a better educational program for the youth of the Borough of East Stroudsburg.

Education is a continuous process. With this in mind, it is the intent and purpose of the Board of Education to constantly strive to expand and develop a better and more comprehensive educational system.

The schools belong to the community and the community should have the kind of schools the majority want. They should provide the educational program which the children need and all citizens can regard with pride. They should also be patterned to protect the financial welfare of the community.

We are deeply interested in the complete growth of your children—our pupils. We stress the three R's as well as the three C's—citizenship, character and conduct.

We teach our pupils Health and Physical Education, wholesome sports, and good sportsmanship; social experiences and real living.

We want our schools to put into use the best ways of doing things. We want to help our students improve their character, to develop their particular inborn talents, to provide a wide range of important information and skills, and to prepare them to work successfully and to live happily as citizens.

We hope that this instruction will lead our children to adjust themselves to learning and living the American way of life.

Boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow. The kind of men and women they will be depends upon the home, the school, the church and the community.

Secor Lists 13 Aims Of Department

With the opening of its new $60,000 building, the Industrial Arts program assumes a role of increased importance and prestige in the regular East Stroudsburg High School curriculum.

Students at the school, working for the first time in a building of their own, have the advantage of actual training with machinery and material placed in an environment which does not severely limit space.

This increased working space will provide a greater amount of freedom in instruction on the part of Industrial Arts Supervisor Charles Schaller.

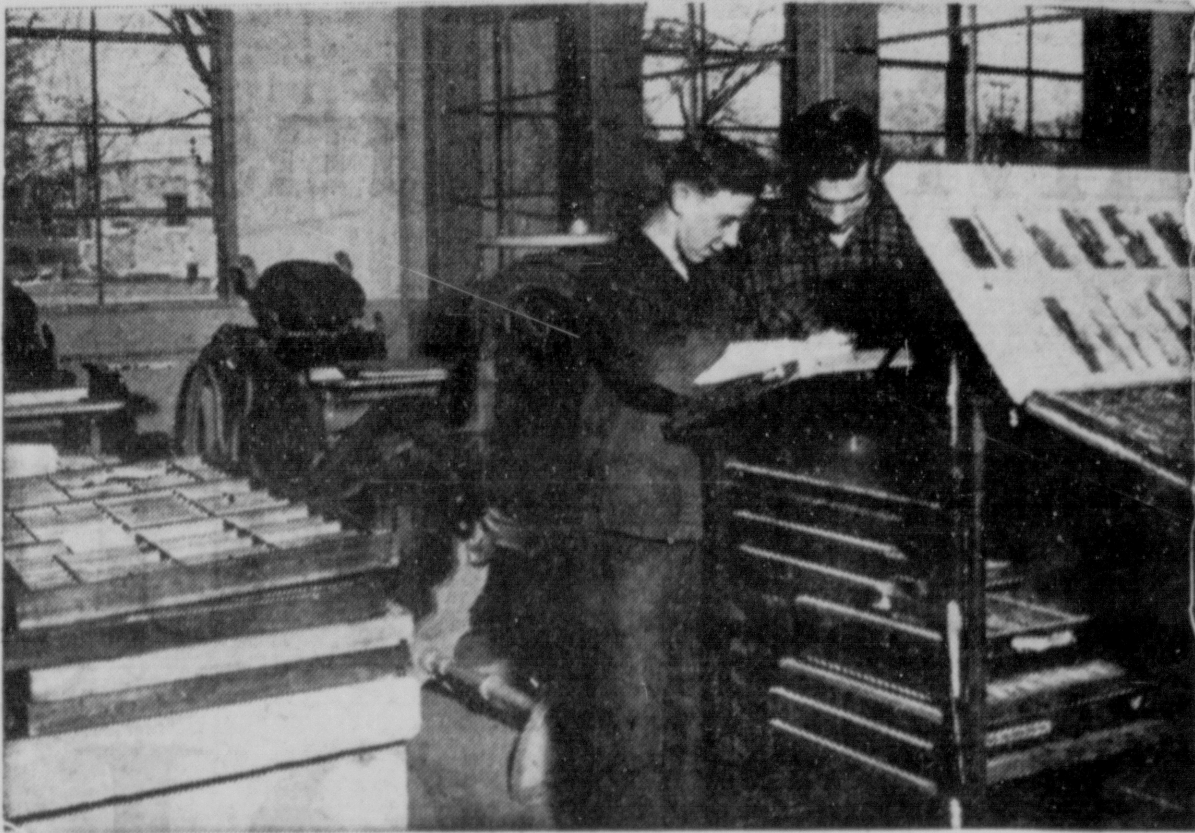

In a memorandum prepared by East Stroudsburg School Supervising Principal Carl T. Secor, the fundamental facts of life concerning an I. A. program of instruction are set forth.

Quoting from a U. S. Government publication on the subject, Mr. Secor describes Industrial Arts as a "phase of general education that concerns itself with the materials, processes and products of manufacture and with the contributions of those engaged in industry. The learnings come through the student's experiences with tools and materials and through his resultant conditions of life."

"Industrial Arts, therefore, has general values that apply to all levels, and in a continuous program these values are progressively intensive and are cumulative in their effect as the student advances in maturity."

The Industrial Arts program at East Stroudsburg has a series of 13 aims, Mr. Secor continues. It hopes to give the individual student:

1. An active interest in industrial life and in methods of production and distribution.
2. The ability to select, care for and use properly the things a person buys or uses.
3. An appreciation of good workmanship and good design.
4. An attitude of pride and interest in his ability to do useful things.
5. A feeling of self-reliance and confidence in his ability to deal with people and to care for himself in an unusual or unfamiliar situation.
6. The habit of orderly procedure in the performance of any task.
7. The habit of self-discipline.
8. The habit of careful, thoughtful work without wasting time.
9. An attitude of readiness to assist others and work with groups.
10. A thoughtful attitude in

"CALIFORNIA, HERE WE COME—For these two East Stroudsburg High school industrial art students this might be a very appropriate song. The 'tray' they're working over contains a complete alphabet of a certain size type. In printing language this is called a California job case. Other job cases and 'composing sticks', which are used to hand set type, can also be seen in the picture. Platen presses and a portion of a large paper cutter can also be seen in the background. In this modern print shop, industrial arts students are learning the fundamentals of printing through actual on-the-job training. School officials soon hope to install a linotype machine in the shop.

Post-Graduate Work Offered I. A. Students

East Stroudsburg High School's Industrial Arts program does not necessarily end with the students' graduation from the school.

Under supervision of the Penn State College Center for Industrial Training, he may still enroll in night classes at the school for further instruction following graduation.

Penn State extension courses are adapted to the specific needs of local industries and business. They are worked out in close conjunction with local educators.

making things easy for others and conforming to social customs.

11. Desirable attitudes and practices with respect to health and safety.

12. Knowledge and understanding of mechanical drawing... and ability to express his ideas by means of a drawing.

13. Skills in the use of tools and machines and a knowledge of the methods of procedure in tools encountered by the average man, together with a knowledge of the working qualities and characteristics of some of our most used materials.

East Stroudsburg High Adds Course In English Adapted To Meet Needs Of Shop Boys

A program of instruction in the English language, specifically designed to meet the needs of Industrial Arts students, is now under way in East Stroudsburg High School.

As set forth by school officials, the course attempts to meet the "everyday needs of the student, stressing correct spelling, acceptable grammar and an ability to express oneself vocally and in writing."

Training in writing "letters of application, resignation, orders and business forms are also stressed."

As an integral part of the course, an attempt to develop a "sense of reading for pleasure" is also made.

One of the most important and successful experiments in English training for I. A. students has been made in a class consisting entirely of shop boys.

Under direction of their teacher, John E. Eckert, the students were asked to prepare scale drawings of machinery, gears and other mechanical devices used in Industrial Arts training.

Along with the drawings, which were prepared in cooperation with their Mechanical Drawing supervisor, the boys were asked to include a written description of the equipment, its functions and physical makeup.

Interest in the drawings helped

Now you can enjoy the prestige, security, and economy of owning a beautiful solid brick home, yet pay no more than you would for a home built of frame or other less durable, less attractive materials. The new "SCR brick" combined with modern home-building know-how makes this new low price in brick home construction possible.

Here is a partial view of the boiler room in the new Industrial Arts Building. It is orderly, and resembling a ship's engine room, it is literally the heart of the new building. Automatic temperature control panels are shown above. The new building represents the ultimate in modern ventilating and temperature control. Controls never need be touched, unless a change in schedule is needed. Every morning at 8 the heat turns on automatically. After school and on Saturdays and Sundays it shuts itself off again automatically. For added protection and possible emergencies the heating system has dual controls and dual nozzles in the oil burner.

Haas Overrules School Board, Orders Teacher Reinstated

Harrisburg, (AP)—Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, yesterday ordered the Scranton school board to reverse a previous decision and reinstate Joseph J. Mankel as a teacher.

Haas overruled the school board on procedural grounds.

The superintendent said the board has shown a "rather liberal attitude" in handling Mankel's case. But, he added, the record did not show that the board received testimony of witnesses under oath nor whether the vote on the question of dismissal of Mankel was taken by a roll call.

Also, said Haas, Mankel was given notice that he was dismissed prior to the time the hearing was held.

Mankel had lost much time at his post due to illness. He charged that the board "demoted" him by assigning him to teach social studies rather than physical education, his former field.

Haas upheld the board's reassignment of the teacher and said he had no right to refuse to teach social studies in which he was certified.

Boys Write Essays On New Shop

A group of Industrial Arts students taking an English course designed especially for their needs was asked to write brief essays on the new $60,000 shop building now being opened at the East Stroudsburg High School.

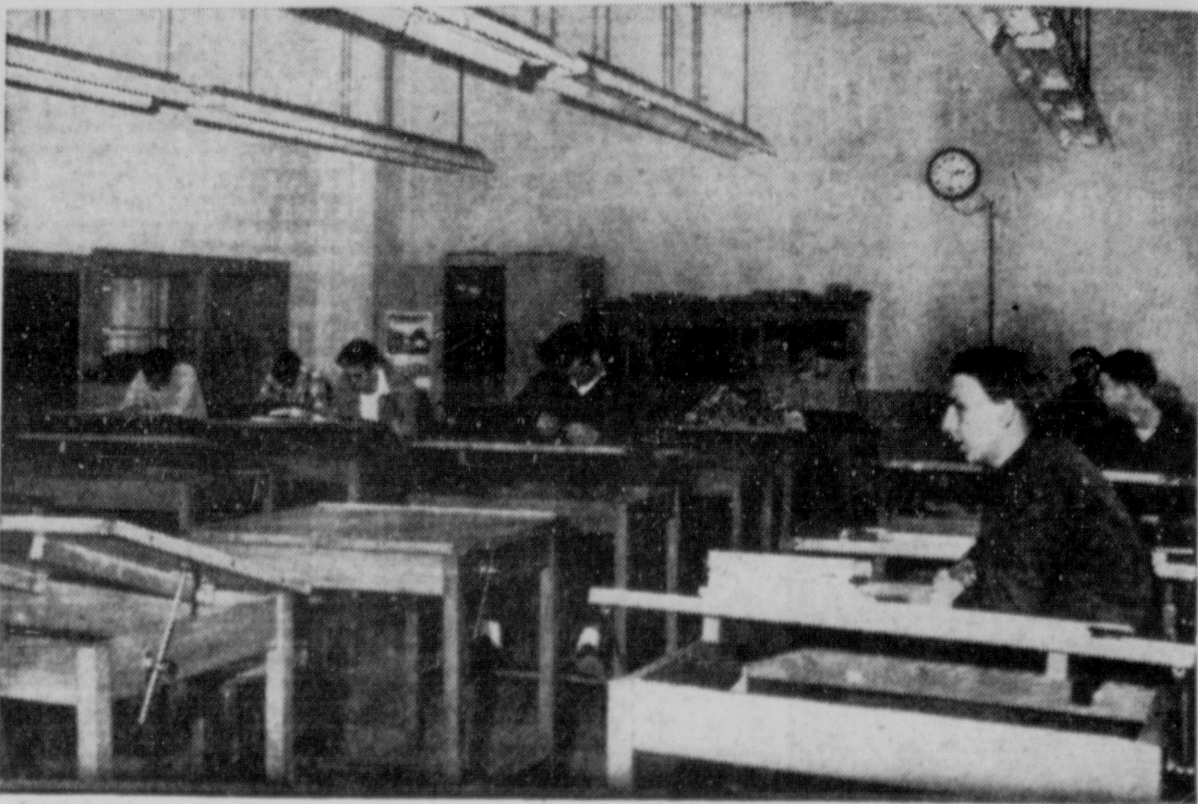

Among the essays were the following:

Richard Zukawski: "The shop has three departments—wood, metal and printing. At the beginning of the year we are allowed to make a choice of which of the three shops we like. At the middle of this school year we moved to the New Shop where we have more room and get more new machinery, such as a new planer, circular saw, etc. We expect more new machines in the future which will improve the shop and the course for technical students. These new machines will help the student learn to care for and operate different machinery. They will also help him (or her) get a better job and prepare himself for the future."

Robert Smale: "In our new shop we have more space to work in and more machines. We have rest rooms and places to wash before we leave the shops. In all, I would say we are very fortunate to have a new and modern shop like we now have."

William Rogers: "You know when you go into a new Industrial Art Building that you can think of the advantages before you. Take for instance the new machinery that we are getting, like the new planer, forge and new lathe. We have the modern advantages such as good lighting, heating, new flooring and many other appliances. The building is divided into five separate parts. The print shop, wood and metal, store rooms and the office. Last, but not least of these, is the mechanical drawing room. One of the best features about the new building is that it has plenty of sunlight and room to work. I think it is one of the best Industrial Arts buildings that a high school like ours has ever had."

Claude Schaller: "In this building we will get excellent guidance on our certain technical abilities. We have a very high improvement in our working space. In working in this shop we will have the feeling of working together with other workers and this will prepare us for the fields of work we are heading for. In summing up, I think this Industrial Arts building will be a lasting advantage to our future." Other students noted temporary changes which must be made in

THE LARGE, WELL-LIGHTED mechanical arts and drafting room in East Stroudsburg High school's new industrial arts building has all the characteristics of an efficient engineering office in a modern manufacturing plant. Here students will learn the basic and practical fundamentals of design and blueprint work. In later stages of their training they will see how to apply this knowledge in the building's well-equipped workshops. The public is invited to inspect the new building during open house today and tomorrow. (Daily Record Photo)

From an idea to reality . . .

Approximately one-third of the employees in the Art Metal company, Monroe County's largest industrial firm, are graduates of East Stroudsburg High School.

Who can say what the ratio will be in the future? There is one thing, however, that is a certainty. East Stroudsburg High School's new Industrial Arts Building—and the wide-scope industrial and mechanical training program it represents—will be of definite value to every manufacturing and industrial concern in this area.

We are proud to have served on the school's Industrial Advisory Committee and commend those whose vision, planning and energy have guided this new building from an idea to reality.

SPEAKERS AND OFFICIALS of the Monroe County Retail Liquor Dealers Association last night were (left to right) Mrs. William Altier, wife of the association president; Jack Hale, Pittsburgh, director of public relations for the Pennsylvania Committee of Moderation and Enforcement, a group sponsored by the Malt Beverage Industry; Altier, who presided; Elmer D. Christine, district attorney in Monroe County; and Mrs. James R. Smith, Stroudsburg RD, chairman of the banquet committee of the local association. (Daily Record Photo)

Youth Suffers Head Injury; Friend Hurt

Kresgeville — A Palmerton boy, 16, was reported in "fair condition" last night at Gnadon Huetten Hospital, Lehigh, where he is under treatment for possible skull fracture suffered in an accident here Saturday.

Brookheads State police said he was Elvin Strohl, Palmerton RD2. A companion, Stanford McFarland, 15, same address, was treated for head cuts and bruises, and discharged. Two other youths escaped without injury. Police said the car crashed when it ran off a curve on Route 209 at 9 p.m.

Faculty Members Attend Conference

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College was represented Friday and Saturday at a conference of Student Personnel Association for Teacher Education, at Lock Haven State Teachers College.

All colleges in Pennsylvania were represented. Three subjects were considered: selection of students, teacher education; advisory programs; and progressive evaluations. Local educators present were Dr. Mary C. Cleaver, chairman of guidance; Eugene H. Martin, dean of men; and Ruth L. Jones, dean of women, all at the college.

Speaker Attacks High Rate Of Taxation On Liquor Sales

Taxes and dry legislation are the two things to combat, members of the Monroe County Retail Liquor Dealers Association heard last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg.

Speaker Jack Hale, director of public relations of the Committee of Moderation and Law Enforcement, sponsored by the malt beverage industry, pointed out to the 250 listeners that the consumer doesn't buy a dollar's worth of liquor with his dollar.

Actually he only buys 46.3 cents worth. The rest goes for liquor taxes. Hale, of Pittsburgh, pointed out that at present 50 per cent of the actual number of square mileage in the State is "dry" under local option rules.

At the same time, 80 per cent of the population live in "wet" territory. The "dry areas," he said, are a result of misjudgment, and failure to bring about local self-policing of the industry.

District Attorney Elmer D. Christine complimented the dealers and licensees on the strictness with which local liquor laws have been observed. He said there has not been a single case of liquor law violation reported since he took office 14 months ago.

Presiding at the first annual conference was William Altier, president of the association. Those attending included licensees, liquor dealers and distributors of Monroe County.

Amateur Hour Contest Held

Congress voted 11,520 acres in what is now Louisiana and 23,029 acres in Florida to French General Lafayette for his services in the Revolution.

PP&L Shareholders Discuss Future Of Atomic Energy

Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. president, Charles E. Oakes, told shareholders at the annual meeting yesterday that earnings for the first quarter topped the same period of 1952 in spite of a costly early-year steel storm.

Shareowners, in turn, renamed the utility directors and established salaries for directors not company officers, took affirmative action on five stock proposals to increase outstanding stock, and heard the utility head discuss the future of atomic energy in the electric industry.

The meeting established a new high of 83 per cent of the 5,035,761 shares outstanding being represented. This meeting also possibly sets a new record of representation for companies for 75,000 or more shareowners.

Shareowners action on the stock proposal gives shareowners authorization for the exchange of Seranton Electric Co. stock for PP&L stock as proposed by PP&L in March. Mr. Oakes reported that the company had filed application with the Pennsylvania Utility Commission and with the Federal Power Commission for approval for the acquisition of Seranton Electric. Hearings before the PUC are scheduled at the Court House at Seranton at 10 a. m., Thursday, April 23.

Additional stock was also authorized for future sale in connection with the company's construction program.

A special feature of the meeting was discussion of atomic energy for the generation of electricity. "The big problem," said Mr. Oakes, "is finding safe and economical ways by which the atomic energy reactor can be substituted for today's fuel-fired furnace, in steam electric stations."

"Much work has been done and five teams of industrial, electrical and engineering companies are working with the Atomic Energy Commission, studying possibilities. At present there is no definite knowledge of whether a commercially feasible nuclear reactor can be built. Certain conclusions are becoming apparent. Atomic energy plants to produce electric power will have to be built in very large units. The operation of such plants will necessitate their running 24 hours a day.

"Therefore, it still will be necessary to operate today's steam plant to meet the daily variation in the electric loads. Before atomic energy plants can become competitors with fuel-fired plants, installation costs will have to be brought substantially below present indications.

"The practical use of atomic energy for electric power purposes probably can not take place within ten years and maybe not before thirty years. PP&L has been closely following investigations and will be participating in the development work."

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

West Chester's track victory over East Stroudsburg State Teachers College wasn't unexpected in the least, nor was the size of the 99-27 score. West Chester has now won all three of its outdoor meets and has also taken part in two indoor relays.

Although the Scranton entry in the class "A" Eastern League optioned Alden "Red" Fetherman to Bluefield, W. Va., of the class "D" Appalachian League, the Scranton front office is reportedly still interested in the former Stroudsburg High three-letter athlete. If Fetherman has a good year with Bluefield, he may return to Scranton before the present campaign passes into history.

Harry Warner, former Pocono High athletic star and outstanding first baseman with the Stroudsburg Poconos, when the North Atlantic League was still in operation, divided the first base duties for Jacksonville in the opening game of the South Atlantic League season. Warner shared duties with a boy named Andrews, who is reportedly a combination first baseman-outfielder. Johnny O'Leary, likeable second string catcher with the Poconos in 1947, is now catching with Augusta, Ga., also of the South Atlantic League. John hit a home run in the opening game of the season to spark his team to a 4-2 victory over Macon.

Marty Garlock, who began his baseball career with Peekskill, also of the North Atlantic League, did the pitching for Augusta on opening day. Al Basilei, hard hitting right fielder for Lebanon, another North Atlantic League club, homered for Columbus in the opening game of the South Atlantic League and helped the Cards to a 10-8 decision over Montgomery. John Mackley, first sacker for the 1949 Lebanon club is also playing first base this year for the Columbus club. Basilei was also a member of the 1949 Lebanon organization.

Leonard "Chip" Wile, former hurler with Berwick, also of the NAL, is a pitcher on the Columbus staff this season. A partial check of South Atlantic League clubs reveals that at least six former North Atlantic League players are in the Sally circuit at the present time. Anadomik had 20 players out for practice last Sunday, while Tannersville featured 14 and Pocono A. C. 15. Speaking of Pocono A. C. brings to mind the fact that Fred Gahres, of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College soccer fame, broke into the Pocono A. C. picture with a real splash. Don hit one of the longest balls ever hit at East Stroudsburg playground, according to some observers, during last Sunday's practice session.

Johnny Romanski, former Pocono Mountains League diamond star, also hit well for the Blue Mountain League entry during the most recent drill. It is true that there may be one managerial change before the Pocono Mountains League opens its doors for the 1953 campaign on Sunday, May 10. H. H. Haverstick, Lancaster, and Frank Souchak, Pittsburgh, are only two of the Shawnee favorites playing in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., at the present time.

Harry Schaeffer, former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos and a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is one of 11 holdovers on the Kansas City, American Association, roster this season. Harry was recently optioned to Kansas City by the New York Yankees. Cold weather is hampering both high school and college baseball practices in the area. Bill Sommers, Harry Caulfield and Joe Antonucci, all East Stroudsburg High pitchers, are troubled by sore arms at the present time.

The addition of Del Davis, assistant football and baseball coach at East Stroudsburg High, to the major league scouting ranks brings to four the number of major league ivory hunters in this area. Davis is working for the Cardinals; Jack Kist, Browns; Ray Welsh, Pirates, and Dominic "Spag" Spagnola, of the Bangor area, is searching for talent for the Yankees. Baseball games in the Lehigh-Northampton League will begin at 3:45 p. m., this year, 15 minutes earlier than last season.

Pocono Mountains Circuit Decides On Umpiring Group

Bartonsville—The Pocono Mountains Baseball League accepted the Blue Mountain Umpires Association for the second straight year last night, during a regular monthly meeting here at Bartonsville Hotel.

All 10 teams in the circuit were represented at the meeting and all approved using the Blue Mountain Umpires Association to officiate regular season games.

Walter Stem, umpire-in-chief of the Pocono Mountains League, is also a member of the Blue Mountain Umpires Association.

Entry Fees

Each of the teams in the circuit were officially ready for the opening game of the season on Sunday, May 10, when each submitted its entry fee last night.

The remainder of the meeting dealt with discussions on baseballs, bats, schedules to be distributed to various places of business and to the opening day program.

Bloomsburg To Feature Races

Daytona Beach, Fla., Grand National Circuit racing for late model stock cars will make its first appearance on major fair grounds next fall, starting with a 100-mile championship event at Bloomsburg, Pa., October 3.

Permission

The National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, Inc., announced yesterday it had granted permission to Captain Sherman F. "Red" Crise, veteran promoter, to present the Bloomsburg event.

King Triumphs Over Davis

Toronto (AP)—Lil Arthur King of Toronto and Philadelphia last night scored an upset, unanimous 10-round decision over Henry Davis of Hawaii.

King weighed 138 pounds, Davis 137.

No Knockdowns

There were no knockdowns in the bruising contest but King, British Empire lightweight champion, gave Davis a beating in the lightning-fast last round.

Old Mark

The old mark was 2:25.39, set by Korean Yun Bok Suh in 1947. Young Johnny Kelley, heretofore regarded as a Boston University star miler, snapped the foreigners' string by finishing fifth in 2:28.19.

The others in the first 10, in order, were Hideo Hamamura, of Japan, older brother of the late American victor, back in 1945, another Japanese, Kuroki Hiroshima, Johnny Lafferty of the best Boston A. A. and Ha-karvonen completed the 26 miles 385 yards course in 2:19.19 and Leandersson, the race's 1949 victor, was timed in 2:19.36. Japanese champion Katsuo Nishida then finished in 2:21:35. All four were under the record.

Yamada, whose first and last names literally mean "respect mountain field," clinched his decisive triumph over his only serious challengers, Finland's Veikko Karvonen and Sweden's Earl Gosta Leandersson, by running their hearts out on killing "Heartbreak Hill," the last of the course's three steep grades, located about six miles from the finish line.

Eastburg, Stroudsburg Set For Games

Cavaliers Invade Port Jervis Field

East Stroudsburg High school will open its official baseball schedule today, when the Cavaliers tangle with Port Jervis, N. Y., High, on the latter's home field. Action is scheduled to get underway at 3:45 p.m.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that he expects to substitute freely during the course of the game, using at least three pitchers.

The hurlers scheduled for duty today are John Verwey, Joe Chase and Ken Roth. Roth is the only southpaw hurler on the staff.

First base will be held down by John "Juice" Arns, while Bob Kupiszewski plays second; Jack Sommers, shortstop, and Harold White, third base. The catching chores will probably be divided between Carl Smith and Dick Burch.

The Cavaliers open the Lehigh-Northampton League flag race on Friday, with Hellertown supplying the opposition at East Stroudsburg Playground. Friday's tussle also begins at 3:45 p.m.

Portuguez Gains Verdict

Brooklyn (AP)—Tuzo "Kid" Portuguez of Costa Rica came from behind last night to score a split decision 10-round victory over Garth Panter and spoil the Salt Lake City middleweight's New York debut at Eastern Parkway Arena. Portuguez weighed 160½, Panter 162½.

Judge Arthur Schwartz tallied it for Portuguez, 5-4-1, and Referee Ray Miller scored it for Tuzo, 4-4-2, even in rounds, but he had the Costa Rican ahead on points, 6-4. The other judge, Jack O'Sullivan, cast his ballot for the Westerner, 5-4-1. The AP scorecard had Portuguez in front 6-4.

Panter, a 22-year-old husky who had lost 10-rounders to top-ranking "Bobo" Olson a month ago, started out like he was going to rush Tuzo right out of the ring. He swept three of the first four rounds, scoring effectively with thumping body punches.

Court Rules In Favor Of Gridder

Denver (AP)—The Colorado Supreme Court in a 6-1 decision yesterday ruled that a former Denver University football player is entitled to workmen's compensation because of grid injuries.

Hurt

Ernest Nemeth, 25, a football lineman from East Chicago, Ind., made a claim for benefits, saying his back was injured during spring practice at the university in April, 1950.

Nemeth said that at that time he was receiving $50 monthly from the university for work done at the campus tennis courts, with $10 monthly deducted for meals. He fired a furnace and cleaned sidewalks for his room, Nemeth said.

Whitfield To Receive Plaque

New York (AP)—The New York Track Writers' Association yesterday selected Mal Whitfield, double winner in the Olympic games last summer, as the outstanding performer of the 1953 indoor track season.

Outstanding

Whitfield, former Ohio State and U. S. Air Force star, will be presented a plaque at the Senior Metropolitan AAU meet June 13.

During the indoor season, Whitfield won 14 straight races and broke three world indoor records.

Hudson Retains Title

Lewiston, Me. (AP)—Lloyd "Scot" Hudson, 134½, of Lewiston knocked out Rudy Champagne, 133½, of Augusta in the fifth of 10 scheduled rounds for Hudson's state lightweight title last night.

Decision

Referee Joe Mangold gave Williams, former lightweight champ, the last five rounds and called the third even. Andy got the rest.

65 Sign For Eastburg Little League

A total of 65 candidates for the East Stroudsburg Little League were signed last night, despite cold and inclement weather. The signing session took place at the official East Stroudsburg Little League field, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Further signing of players will take place at the same spot and same time today.

Carl "Phiz" Nauman, president of the league, announced last night that he expects the same number of candidates as last season, between 130 and 150.

Signers

Nauman, Bill Lee and J. Fielding Vollers took care of the major portion of the signings last night.

Most of the players already signed are new entries in the circuit. Most of the veteran material still in the age group, from eight to 12, is expected to be on hand tonight. Present plans call for the first practice to be held next Monday, at 6:30 p.m.

Cards Blast Milwaukee, 9-4

St. Louis (AP)—Big Steve Bilko hammered across four runs with a homer and single last night as the St. Louis Cardinals pounded out 13 hits for a 9-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Victims of the heavy St. Louis assault were four Milwaukee pitchers, with the defeat pinned on Warren Spahn, the Braves' southpaw star, who defeated the Redbirds in Milwaukee's historic opener a week ago, 3 to 2. Spahn gave up four runs in four innings, including a homer by Del Rice.

In addition to Bilko's slugging Red Schoendienst singled twice and belted a double.

Waring To Be Toastmaster

Tom Waring, well known entertainer and equally well known in Monroe County athletic circles, will be toastmaster at tomorrow's spaghetti supper being held at the Monroe County YMCA. The affair is scheduled to begin promptly at 6:15 p. m.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association officials, will be guest speaker at the affair.

Honor

The supper is being held to honor all players who took part in the Industrial and Senior "V" Leagues and those that played in the recent Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament.

George Metropoulos, athletic director at the YMCA, announced last night that between 60 and 65 men would attend the supper.

Williams Earns Nod Over Andy

Trenton, N. J. (AP)—A sluggish 10-round fight last night produced a close decision for Ike Williams, 151, Trenton, over Billy Andy, 152, Providence, R. I.

Decision

Referee Joe Mangold gave Williams, former lightweight champ, the last five rounds and called the third even. Andy got the rest.

Little Bigger League Elects Officers For Second Term

Last year's officers of the Little Bigger League of the Stroudsburg were returned to their respective offices for another year at a meeting at the Monroe County YMCA last night.

Eugene Martin was re-elected president, while Elwood Hintze is back for another campaign as vice president; Walter McClelland, secretary, and Wilmer Frisbie, treasurer.

Last season's four sponsors will back teams in the circuit again this season and all were represented at last night's meeting.

John Kingsley represented International Boiler Works; Kenneth Barthold, Monroe Silk Mill; Louis Leffler, Line Material, and Bill Reaser, Worthington Mower.

Managers

Team managers present last night were Warren "Mag" Loney, Monroe Silk Mill; John Schoonover and Leffler, Line Material; Reaser, Worthington Mower, and Elmer "Lem" Bonser, International Boiler Works.

All boys in the area who have reached the age of 13 but will not have reached the age of 16 before September 15, 1953, are eligible to play in the league this season.

A first call for candidates has been issued and all boys interested in playing in the Little Bigger League of the Stroudsburg are asked to report to George Metropoulos at the YMCA before Saturday of this week.

Pitchers

Bob Egbert and Elaine Seiple, both well versed in diamond wars, are expected to divide the pitching chores today, with Larry Raph and Rodney Taylor, a pair of southpaws, facing Belvidere on Friday.

Joe D'Imperio, rounding out four years on the baseball squad, and Ralph Stenlake, a sophomore, are expected to divide the catching. Stenlake may also be used in the outfield to take advantage of his hitting strength.

Bangor's infield today will feature Tom Williams, first base; Joe Heard, second base; Rodney Miller, shortstop, and Joe Martocci, third base.

The outfield will find Joe Yanuzzi in left and George D'Alessandro in center. Although the right field occupant won't be decided until game time, Jack Stenlake, a freshman, seems to have the inside track.

A second meeting with Nazareth this year will be a Lehigh-Northampton League contest.

Mountaineers Tangle With Pen Argyl

Stroudsburg High goes in search of its second straight baseball victory of the infant campaign today, when the Mountaineers tangle with Pen Argyl, at the latter's Weona Park. The game is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis has entrusted the starting mound assignment to Dick Schuster, junior right handed hurler.

Otherwise the starting array of Mountaineers will be exactly the same as the one that inflicted a 7-1 setback on Catasauqua at Tannersville last Friday.

Ready

If Schuster should need relief along the route, Ray Hogrelius, another youthful right hander, will be ready to make his appearance in the game.

Today's tussle was originally slated to be played at Gordon Giffels field, but the repair job at the local ball yard can't be completed in time for the game.

Today's contest isn't a Lehigh Valley League affair and won't detract from or enrich Stroudsburg's chances of repeating as title holder for the second straight year.

The Mountaineers face a tough foe in Northampton on Friday, at Northampton, at 4 p.m. Bill "Bump" Metzgar is slated to do the pitching in this league contest.

Laffango Suffers Injury

New York (AP)—Laffango, one of the East's top candidates for the Kentucky Derby May 2, was declared out of the $100,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday and may be forced to skip the Louisville classic as well because of a recurrence of a foot injury.

Bosox Sweep Pair From Washington

Boston, (AP)—Dick Gernert yesterday swung a bat reminiscent of Boston sluggers of past seasons in leading the Red Sox to two victories over the Washington Senators, 4-2 and 11-4.

Gernert, tall, husky first baseman, whacked a pair of home runs in the morning contest witnessed by 5,385 and blasted a homer and a three run double which just missed being his fourth homer—in the afternoon game which was witnessed by 7,334.

It was the home opener for the Sox, twice snowed out on earlier dates, and the thermometer in the press box registered only 39 degrees when leftyhander Mel Parnell made the first pitch of the day.

Help

Parnell, helped out at the end by Ellis Kinder and Bill Kennedy, won the opener and another southpaw, erratic Maurice McDermott, was credited with the second game triumph, although he, too, was replaced near the end.

Gernert's first homer, in the second inning of the opener, was Boston's first run after 19 scoreless innings. It just about made the nets atop the left field fence.

Dick's three run double was a long high smash which bounced off the flagpole in deepest center, missing the center field bleachers by only a couple of feet.

That smash highlighted a seven run outburst in the seventh inning in which 11 of the Sox batted.

Effort—West End A.C., an annual entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, will hold a meeting today at the Pohopoko Hotel, at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in playing with West End this season is urged to attend the meeting.

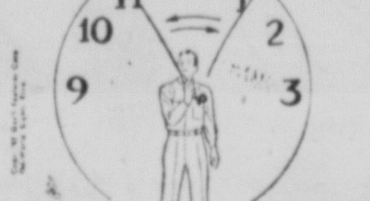

Hammer's Ninth Inning Homer Gives Phils Nod Over Giants

New York, (AP)—Granny Hammer's home run into the upper left-field stands in the ninth inning yesterday gave the Philadelphia Phillies Robin Roberts his first victory of the season, 2-1, over the New York Giants.

Weather Stops Pirates Again

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Snow and cold weather forced the postponement yesterday of the National League baseball game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Officials called off the second game of the series at 10:55 a.m. with the mercury reading 32 degrees.

Delay

Umpire Bill Stewart delayed Sunday's game for 37 minutes for fear of injury to the players in the blinding snow and 38 degree temperatures.

Churchill Downs To Aid Red Cross

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—Churchill Downs announced yesterday sponsorship fees from the coast-to-coast telecast and broadcast of the 1953 Kentucky Derby will go to the Red Cross.

Program

Bill Corum, president of the Downs where the Derby will be run May 2, said the 45-minute program will last from 4 to 4:45 p.m. (EST).

Campbell, Goldman Tie For Medal

Pinehurst, N.C., (AP)—William C. Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., the 1950 winner, and David "Spec" Goldman, smiling Dallas, Tex., veteran, tied for medal honors yesterday with one under par 71s in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament qualifying round.

They were the only par breakers in the field of 136 who swarmed over the 6,952-yard number two club course for almost 11 hours in mid-fifty temperatures with occasional biting winds.

They finished a stroke ahead of Alex Welsh, Rockford, Ill., who scored 34-38—72, his five birdies being balanced by five slips over par.

High Score

The high score to qualify for today's 64-man first round of match play was 80. A dozen 80 shooters will play off for six positions this morning before the first round gets under way.

A year ago there was a triple tie for the medal which was never played off. Tournament officials will decide later what to do about the latest deadlock.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., defending champion; Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., the 1951 winner, and Alpheus Winter Jr., Fairfield, Conn., tied for fourth place at 73.

Stewart Goes On Disabled List

Chicago, (AP)—The Chicago White Sox yesterday asked American League headquarters to place Edgie Stewart, 36-year-old outfielder, on the disabled list.

Stewart, who hit 267 last season mainly as a pinch-hitter, had an appendectomy a week ago and also is nursing a broken thumb.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1953.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Either on the lake warm side for other than routine propositions, tasks. It should help if you pep up new ideas, vigorous effort.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Nothing unusual likely, work plus new ideas. If you have a good idea, try it. You may say, pay more attention to little matters, routine duties. Create good will, good spirit wherever you can, welcome others' ideas.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—You may say, pay more attention to little matters, routine duties. Create good will, good spirit wherever you can, welcome others' ideas.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—One of the favorable days this month. Not the best day perhaps, but can be made compensating if you really get behind your work and interests, give proper handling.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Another day like Cancer's but a few better aspects for business and finances. Don't waste time on non-essentials. Romance, family come in for favor.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Put your best into your efforts. Aspects most encouraging. For those who can smile through opposition there are extra benefits.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Be reminded to be particular about things that require close attention, and not too realistic over trifles. Don't aim for something for little.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—Stick to facts, seeking them through right sources. This holds for the small matters as well as the big.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—Discussions, conferences, constancy in right direction most important now. Use common sense, give your talents full scope.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—A stitch in time saves nine, plus "does only gain the most," are today's directives offering laurels, happy moments.

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Crowding in work when you are tired, or rushing too much at beginning and causing early fatigue, are mischievous. Use your head, think.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't be so busy you cannot take a few minutes for children, elderly folks, or good reading matter. Diversify your day.

Former Missionary Notes Favorable Impression Reds Have Made On Third Of World

Buck Hill Falls—Communists have favorably impressed Russia, China and Eastern Europe by actual achievements as "liberators of the people from certain forms of imperialism, economic oppression, poverty, illiteracy and superstition."

That was the statement yesterday by Dr. M. Searl Bates, Union Theological Seminary professor and former China missionary for 20 years. He talked before some 300 women at the missionary conference of the Women's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church here.

Dr. Bates, who has not been in China since before World War Two, said Americans generally fail to realize the favorable impression the Communists have made through these "actual achievements."

"False though many of the Communist claims may be, they challenge the Christian in the area of human freedom."

"In the U.S. the Communist Party has made such an inglorious showing that we fail to understand this favorable impression they have made upon a third of the people of the world," said Dr. Bates.

"What should trouble us," he continued, "is that Christianity is not recognized as the protagonist of freedom."

"Indeed," Dr. Bates said, "it is accused of opposing change and giving sanctity to present systems of power and control."

Dr. Bates made reference to the caste system in India, segregation in Africa and prejudice and discrimination in the U.S.

Africa was discussed specifically by another of the day's speakers, Dr. Z. K. Matthews, professor of anthropology at South African College, Fort Hare, S. Africa.

The "forces of reaction" won in the recent elections in the Union of South Africa, he said.

"But in time the struggling people will obtain their freedom—whether or not they are helped by other peoples," he added.

"One needs to remember that the 10 million non-whites in the Union of South Africa could not take part in the elections," he said. "Only a part of the total population decides what is to happen to the whole country."

"As long as the indigenous people (Negroes and mixed races) do not have the ballot, what the whites vote does not count. No people will be satisfied to remain in bondage for ever."

Dr. Matthews is a native South African. He is at present visiting professor at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, teaching anthropology.

The conference continues through Thursday night.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given pursuant to Section 2 of the Act of June 25, 1947, P. L. 114, its amendments and supplements, that the East Stroudsburg Borough School District, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, intends to adopt a resolution levying a $5.00 per capita tax for school purposes at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said School District to be held on the 14th day of May, 1953, at 8:00 P. Care Of Charity Patients Costs General Hospital $30,000 In Nine Months

Charitable work which cost Monroe County General Hospital over $30,000 in the first nine months of this fiscal year, is mounting daily with no view towards adjustment, Charles Swisher, assistant superintendent, said yesterday.

Citing the period as normal to every-day operations, Swisher pointed out that of 26,004 patient days during those nine months 4,397 were free, representing 17 per cent of the turnover.

Uncollectable bills also represent a decided loss to the hospital, Swisher said. For that period $6,395 was written off as bad debts.

Charity cases accounted for $45,164.40, or 12 percent of the overall business at the hospital from June 1 to Feb. 28. For this amount the state returned $15,750. Outpatient work for the same period accounted for $5,508.45 of the total return. Taking the month of February for the basis of comparison, Swisher disclosed 125 persons received dispensary treatment, for a total cost of $365. Visits by many who previously had medical and surgical hospital treatment as charity patients cost the hospital from 50 cents to $25 a visit in the dispensary, the latter being x-rays.

With about 40 charity cases each month, the hospital is required to send quarterly statements to the state proving the amount spent in this type of work, Swisher reported.

Taking normal cases into consideration Swisher used as his subject an appendectomy patient hospitalized six days. At $7 daily, the ward rate for rooms up to four patients, five at the most if crowded, cost for the charity patient's room for his period in the hospital would be $42.

Time and materials used in the operation comes to $16; laboratory tests account for another $12.50 and drugs cost $6.50, for a total bill of $77. The state allowance at $4.20 daily returns the hospital $25.20 and results in the net loss of $51.80 for one single appendectomy charity patient.

Assuming the charity case is there for maternity:

At $6 daily in a four-bed ward an average stay is five days, costing $30. The same time for the infant, at $1.50 daily adds another $7.50. Delivery room expense costs $10 and drugs amount to $1.50 for a total expenditure of $49. The return from the state allowance, $4.20 daily for those five days, gives the hospital $21, leaving a net loss on this charity case of $28.

About 160 deliveries are made in a three-month period at the hospital, Swisher said. And of this total about 24 are free cases, or charity patients.

Mrs. J. Wallingford
Ph. Stbg. 69141

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Paul and daughter Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul and granddaughter Leah motored to Trenton, N. J. Sunday where they were guests of Mrs. Anna Sharbaugh and family.

Breakfast was delayed at the Wallingford home Sunday morning while they watched the antics of a pair of wood ducks. This pair had been seen for several days on the trees and on the stream back of the house, but Sunday morning they decided to settle. The female landed on the apple tree while the male perched himself on a big oak tree nearby. She tried to enter all the holes in the hollow limbs but had no luck. Later she called to him, then flew down in the meadow and he followed. After they left the opening was made larger and another hollow limb was wired on the tree, but the pair haven't returned as yet.

May 10, at Effort and McMichaels, with a combined service at the Tannersville church the night of May 10. Rev. Bernard expects to have a musical group from Easton for the vespers and addresses morning and night by his daughters.

Dr. Kitto To Conduct May 3 Service

Bartonsville—Holy Communion was offered at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at Wesley Chapel here. Rev. Leroy Bernard was assisted at the communion table by Leo Frailey, who made his first communion as a member of the church. He will fulfill his catechetical requirements at the next class to be offered in the Tannersville charge.

The service of "The Lord's Supper" was read responsively by Rev. Bernard, the choir, and the congregation. Special organ music was played by Mrs. Clyde DeYoung, assisted by Miss Charita White and the choir sang.

It was announced that Dr. Charles Kitto, district superintendent, will preach at the next service, 11 a.m. May 3. This will be his farewell sermon for members of Wesley Chapel, and he will conduct quarterly conference following the worship period.

Mother's Day programs in the Tannersville Methodist Charge will be held in the morning, Sunday,

New Plan Pays $200 a Month - Live or die

$200.00 a month for you when you're laid up, even for life . . . plus $200.00 a month for your family for 25 months after your death from any natural cause—or for 50 months if death is due to accident. That's the amazing new $200-a-Month plan, announced today by a leading Chicago company.

"This plan has one simple purpose—to provide cash when it's needed most," a company spokesman declared. "It provides $200.00 a month when you're laid up by sickness or accident, even for life, and in addition pays $200.00 a month for 25 months after death from any natural cause—or for 50 months if death is due to accident."

Money When You're Laid Up
Under the $200-a-Month plan you get $200 steady monthly income from the first day you see your doctor and as long as you are laid up—for one day, a week, a month or even for life. And benefits are never reduced at any age.

If you are in the hospital, this plan pays at the rate of $400 a month for as long as three months—and also includes cash for home nursing care, non-disabling accidents, full benefit for non-confining illness for as long as a full year, ambulance service and other benefits.

$200 a Month After Death
In case of natural death, this plan pays your family $200.00 a month for 25 months—or $200.00 a month for 50 months if death is due to an accident. This means continuing income for the family after the loss of a loved one. If you prefer, payment of a $5000.00 lump sum can be arranged—becoming $10,000.00 in case of accidental death.

No Extra Cost to Start

The Sterling $200-a-Month Plan has no "registration fee" and no policy fee. You pay no higher premium to start, and you have the same low cost and same full benefits as long as you keep your protection in force.

The Sterling Insurance Company is a strong legal-reserve company, with over $4,000,000.00 for policyholders' protection over and above all legal requirements. Sterling is licensed under the insurance laws of this state, and has a nationwide reputation for giving good insurance value at low cost.
